Located in the heart of the Latin area, Nîmes School of Fine Arts (Esban, École supérieure des beaux-arts de Nîmes) enjoys an exceptional location and heritage that give a natural opening and build a close cooperation with the Mediterranean countries but also the whole of Europe and beyond.

Esban has, for several years, a proactive policy in favour of the development of international relations and, in particular, obtained the Erasmus Charter 2007-2014 and this year, the Erasmus + Charter 2014-2020.

The international strategy of the school favours:

- the greater mobility of students, teachers and staff
- the involvement of the institution in the creation of a European space for art teaching at higher education level
- the wider recognition of the school and its participation in a Mediterranean, European and Worldwide dynamic

This strategy is evident in various different actions (partnerships, English classes, educational trips abroad), which are developed in many fields such as training or research.

To encourage mobility, the school participates in European Community exchange programmes and is linked to international exchange agencies such as Erasmus, OFAJ (for exchanges between France and Germany) and soon CREPUQ (Québec-France). The students also can take part in training courses or educational trips organised with other institutions of higher education in Europe, Asia and Middle East.

In order to develop its courses, the school is also working on reinforcing partnerships with associated institutions through a proactive policy in favour of motilities for teachers and staff but also by implementing joint pedagogical projects with her partners.

The school is a member of national and international cultural networks (ELIA, Art Accord France, ANDEA, CampusArt) while its teachers take part to the research group of the school called Pra / Thex. Through these partnerships, the school is aiming to help build the European higher education scene of the future.

Finally, the school is working with renowned international institutions such as Universities, Grandes Ecoles, Museums, Cultural Institutions, Art Centres: Carré d'Art – Musée d'art contemporain, FRAC Languedoc-Roussillon, the University of Nîmes and Montpellier, Fine Arts School in Montpellier and Perpignan, the Ecole des Mines d'Ales, the Musée Régional d'art Contemporain Languedoc-Roussillon in Sérignan.

School and studies

Nîmes School of Fine Arts is a higher education establishment devoted to academic art teaching in a European dimension.

Its primary missions are:

- artistic and cultural education
- initial and continued education in art field
- scientific and artistic research
- international cooperation
- the circulation of culture and artistic information
- the reinforcement and development of partnerships in artistic and professional fields

Affiliated to the European system of Degree, Master, Doctorate, the five years of study in art schools cover two stages:

The Programme Phase (3 years) corresponds to the semesters 1 to 6, validated by the DNAP option Art (the National Diploma of Plastic Arts, Art option). From the discovery of tools and means of expression to the emergence of a personal work; students go deeper into the studio practice and develop a personal approach while participating in a consistent offer of class, session of research and creation (Ateliers de Recherche et Création) and workshops led by guests artists.

The Project Phase (2 years) corresponds to the following 4 semesters, validated by the DNSEP (the National Diploma of Higher Education in Plastic Art Expressivity, Art option). Teaching focuses on the development of personal research of the students and on the writing of a MA dissertation. Workshops, special sessions of research and production, study tours are planned during these years.

In Nîmes, the MA is characterised by an intense research on the Exhibition and its practice. These topics are developed thanks to our partnerships with Carré d'art – Contemporary Art Museum in Nîmes and Frac Languedoc-Roussillon so students can experiment the Exhibition as artists, but also as curators or producers.

At Esban students also participate to some cross-teachings such as artists' talks, conferences of history of arts, visits to exhibitions, study trips, workshops and master classes...

During their 2nd and 4th year they do some internships in order to discover the professional world (art centres, Frac, museums, galleries, artists, residences, publishing...).

Esban diplomas are registered and recognised by the French Ministry for Culture and Communications. Since exchange students are not officially enrolled at the school, they cannot be awarded its diplomas.

You can read more about Esban program of studies and organisation in our Catalogue of courses.

As soon as the student is accepted, he/she will receive by e-mail useful information regarding courses, accommodation etc.

Learning Agreement

Nîmes School of Fine Arts requires the Learning Agreement prior to the beginning of the stay. Therefore, the home institution will have to send the learning agreement for approval and signature after receiving the acceptance letter. Exceptionally, it can be agreed after the student's arrival in Nîmes.

Studying in Nîmes

Academic calendar

The academic year is organized in 2 semesters. The Fall Semester begins in September and ends early January. The Spring Semester begins mid-January and ends in June. The courses usually last all year and exams are held at the end of each semester.

Study plan

Students will attend the courses included in the study plan of the official degree programme. They can choose some ARC, Ateliers de Recherche et Création. Students should consult Esban Catalogue of Courses and Guide of Studies where they can find useful information on subjects, professors, activities, etc... These documents are updated every year and can be found on Esban website, www.esba-nimes.fr.

Welcome Day

Incoming students are invited to take part to the Welcome Day held at the very beginning of each the semester. They will be introduced to the staff, to the teachers and they will visit the different sites and workshops of the school.

Counselling Teacher and Tutor

Each incoming student has a counselling teacher and a tutor chosen amongst the students of his/her level. The counselling teacher and the tutor are mentioned in the official Letter of Acceptance. The teacher /tutor will help the student to find his/her courses, lectures and projects. The students can also ask at the International Relations Coordinator for further advice.

Workshops, library and studios

The School offers a large choice of workshops and studios (printmaking, sculpture, video, computers, etc.) where expert tutors guide the students in their creations and productions.

Students also have private and shared studios for their projects. As soon as the year starts, a workspace is assigned to the students. They can go there from 8am to 8pm.

Esban library offers a certain number of books and magazines in English. An agreement allows Esban students to register with the library of the University of Nîmes. Students also have access to the documentation center of Carré d'art - Museum of Contemporary Art.

French language entry requirements

The language of instruction at the Nîmes School of Fine Arts is French.

Students must have sufficient French skills before coming in order to be able to follow lectures.

The TCF- Test de Connaissance du Français is test of proficiency in French and it's a preliminary requirement for non-French-speaking applicants. Organized by the International Centre for Educational Studies - CIEP (www.ciep.fr). The TCF - costs around €90.

The level B2 is required in all components (reading, listening, writing and speaking). However the Esban accepts, for the Erasmus students only, letters from relevant staff (i.e. language/course tutors) stating that the student has a sufficient understanding to be able to be taught, comfortably, in French. This should also state that the student could communicate fluently in French.

French course

Esban offers free French course to its Erasmus students (45h/semester). This course takes place at the University of Nîmes (10 min. walk from the school). Once enrolled, the students pass a placement test in order to organize the different groups according to language level. Upon completion of the course, the student will receive a certificate if he/she has attended at least 90% of the classes.

Student card

The student card is handed out to students once they arrive. The student card will offer cultural incentives in Nîmes as well as discounted or free entries to National Museums.

Health Insurance

Students have to prove that they have a health insurance; this is a mandatory requirement to receive the student card.

Health Care: students from the EU and Switzerland are entitled to medical care in the medical centres and hospitals that form part of or have agreements with the French National Health System (Sécurité Sociale). To be able to use these services, students must apply for the European Health Card at the health service offices in their country of origin. Foreign students from other countries than the above mentioned or who are not covered by national health plans, must have private health insurance.

Repatriation insurance

A proof of having taken out repatriation insurance is a mandatory requirement to receive the student card.

Before paying this insurance, students should check with their bank or agencies to which they are affiliated if they do not already have this insurance.

Third party insurance

Students have to be properly insured during their stay in France. Third-party liability insurance is a mandatory requirement to receive the student card.

Many companies are offering this type of insurance.

Visa

Non-European citizens must provide a photocopy of their 'cartes de séjour' (residence cards) at the time of their registration.

'Carte de séjour' renewal can be done at the Préfecture du Gard,

University housing

The CROUS - Centre Régional des Oeuvres Universitaires et Sociales, is the organisation in charge of all public student dorms in Nîmes. The organisation is self-organized and independent from Esban.

Erasmus students have priority access to housing with the CROUS on condition that they remain in Nîmes the whole year (there may be exceptions in case of cancellations).

The International Office of the Nîmes School of Fine Arts can assist the student in his /her correspondence with the CROUS and try to make the process less complicated for him/her.

If interested, the student should contact the CROUS as soon as he knows he/she has been accepted at Esban.

Résidence Hoche

We recommend the student dorm at Résidence Tour Magne that is located in a unique setting and also very popular among the students.

For the Résidence Tour Magne, please contact Christine Muscio – 0033(0)4.66.64.18.61 - christine.muscio@crous-montpellier.fr

Please note:

- Students must purchase a home insurance, pay for the water to the CROUS and subscribe to a personal contract for electricity and Internet.
- As soon as possible (preferably before June 30) students must pay a deposit of 150 Euros for a room /381 Euros for a studio. The deposit will be returned once the student leaves the room (if there is no damage and if the student has paid all his rents). As long as the student doesn't pay the deposit, the room/ the studio is not booked.
- Because Esban acts as a guarantor for the payment of rent for the Erasmus students living at the residence hall, it takes the right to claim reimbursement of unpaid rents to the student and to inform the partner university.
- The student must start paying the rent from September 1, even if he/she arrives later.
- Students have to adjust their arrival to the opening hours of the front desk (generally from Monday to Friday)
- It is possible that there is no electricity in the apartment when the student arrives. The installation of electricity can take between 3 days and a week and costs 36 Euros (an intervention in the following 24h costs 165 Euros).
- Except in very special cases, it is not possible to interrupt the lease before its term.
